

First Shot, First Step

By Assad

18-year-old Wyatt stands outside 2 if by sea tactical. The brand-new range looks modern, but the warm wooden sign and porch lights give it old charm. His hands shake.

Inside, an employee named Travis notices Wyatt's stiff posture and nervous eyes.

Travis cracks a small joke
about “everyone’s first-time
jitters.”

Before any firearm appears,
Travis introduces the Safety
Flow: Eyes open Ears
protected Muzzle awareness
Clear communication

Wyatt's hands tremble again as Travis shows him a training pistol.

INDOOR SHOOTING LANE

ASSID A

Travis adjusts Wyatt's feet.

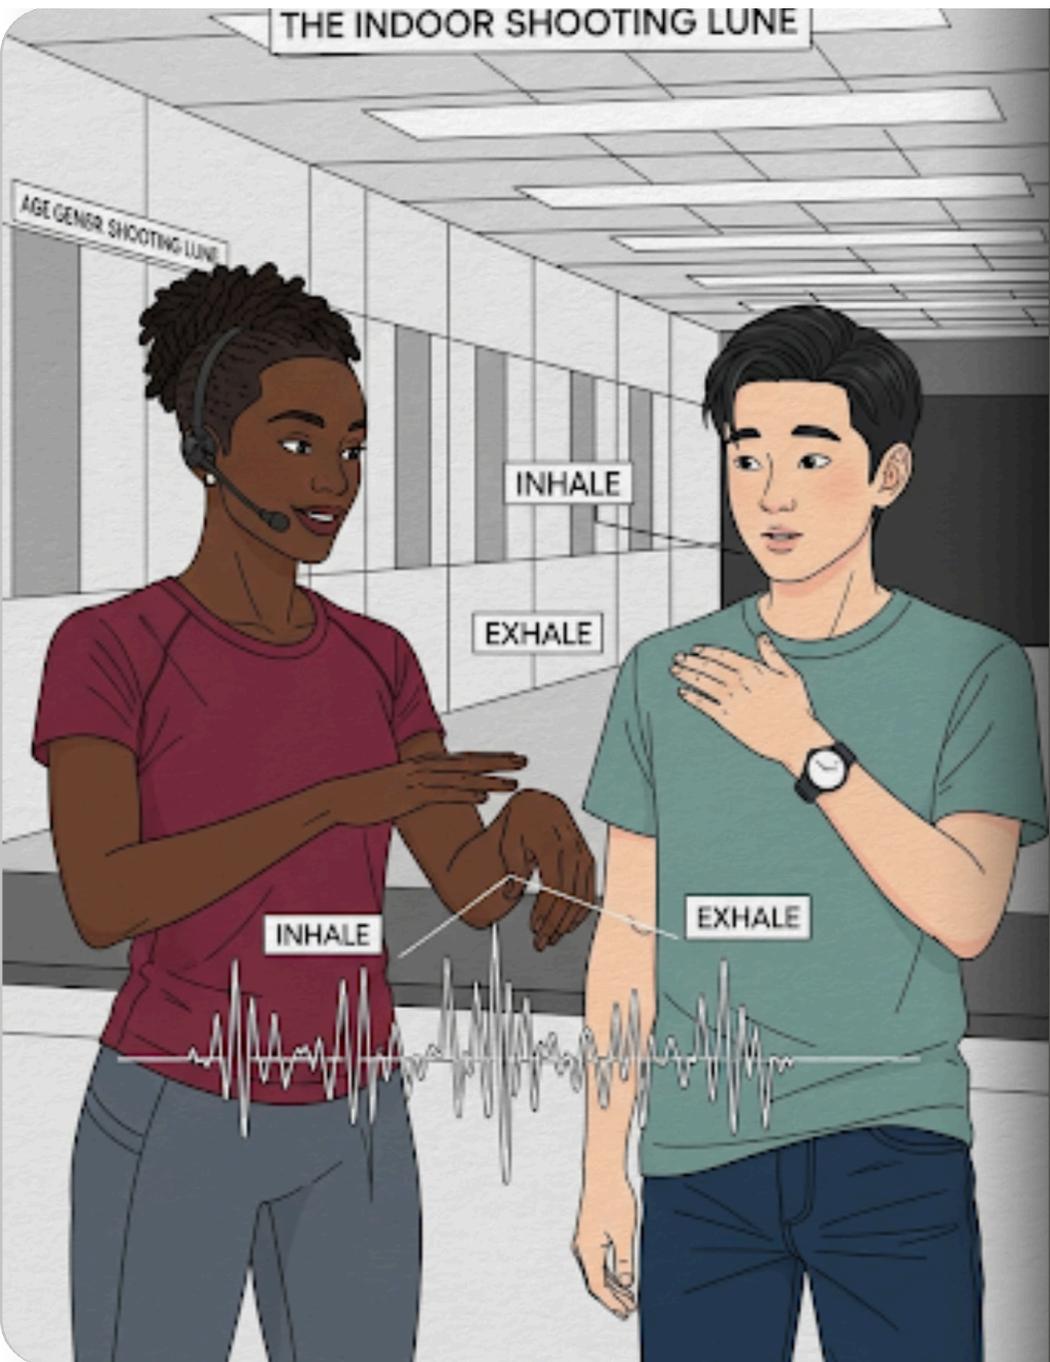

Wyatt takes a deep

The sound explodes.

Travis shows Wyatt the pattern.

Another employee, Cadence, joins.

Wyatt fires a clean, centered shot.

The staff cheer lightly, not mocking — genuinely proud.

Wyatt imagines himself in Marine uniform one day.

Travis hands him a membership brochure.

Wyatt leaves the range taller than he entered.
